

The Music Lives On! Dayton, Ohio

The Salem & Catalpa Gateway Art Project Honors the Musical Legacy of Roger Troutman!

Thanks to the Phoenix Project – a partnership of the City of Dayton Ohio, Good Samaritan Hospital and CityWide Development Corporation, a new gateway graces the entrance to the Dayton View Triangle and Fairview neighborhoods in the northwest section of Dayton, Ohio. A special place for public art has been created on the site that once was home to the Troutman Recording Studios.

Renowned Dayton artist Michael Bashaw has been commissioned to design and build a sound sculpture that represents the rebirth of the neighborhoods and the musical legacy of Roger Troutman.

We Need Your Help! A team of community members including recording artist Shirley Murdock, a protégé of Roger Troutman, is working with the Phoenix Project to raise funds for this project. Help honor the musical legacy of Roger Troutman by making a tax-deductible contribution to:

The Music Lives On! Fund at the Dayton Foundation. You may donate securely online at www.daytonfoundation.org – click the “Donate Online” button and type in the fund name or number 7180 to make a contribution with your credit card (minimum $25). All gifts will receive an acknowledgement. If you prefer to mail a check, please use the form below. Gifts of any size will help make this vision a reality. Thank you for your support!! For more information about the Phoenix Project, contact CityWide at (937)853-2555.
